

Lab 5B: Annotation

Topic: Plagiarism

Awasthi, S. (2019). Plagiarism and academic misconduct: A systematic review. DESIDOC Journal of Library & Information Technology, 39(2).

In academic writing, plagiarism is a common practice. It is faster to copy text than to create new text from scratch. However, writing is difficult and slow, and if a student is caught plagiarizing someone else's work, he or she could be penalized and have his or her paper rejected. To avoid this, one should write their own notes and refer to their own notes when writing their first draft. Save an original copy of the piece for cross-checking purposes.